About NTC

Founded in 2013, NTC is a theater company based in Newton whose mission is to create excellent works of art in new ways by using talent from around the Greater Boston area. Our productions, performed in and around Newton, include original stagings of contemporary and classical literature, new plays and devised pieces. Our goal is to promote community through artistic expression. Eager to partner with other local non-profit organizations, we choose meaningful material that fosters civically-engaged audiences. We strive to promote accessibility; at least one production every year is free of charge.

Who's Who

Hannah Rosenberg (Meg) is thrilled to join the cast of Women. Recent NTC Credits: Mother/Mrs. in Junie B. Jones Smells Something Fishy, Zeena in Ethan Frome, Chorus Member in Iphigenia at Aulis, and Maria Bertram in Mansfield Park. Hannah would like to thank her family and friends for supporting her love of drama on (and sometimes off of) the stage.

Sarah Brooke Vanaman (Jo) is thrilled to be returning to NTC after her premiere in Mansfield Park. Sarah graduated with honors from New York University. Past productions: As Bees in Honey Drown (JCity Theatre), Nickel and Dimed (The Theatre Project), All's Well that Ends Well (RADA). Sarah would like to thank her family for providing her with constant inspiration and support.

Katie Aasland (Beth) is excited to be back on stage after a lengthy hiatus (since high school)! This is her first show with NTC, but she has been a dedicated tech crew member with Theatre@First for seven years. Up next, she will be Technical Director for T@F's Complete Works of William Shakespeare (Abridged) and The Revenger's Tragedy. Much love to Mack for encouraging her to get back on stage!

Quinn Etchie (Amy) is excited to be back performing with NTC. Her earlier performances include roles in Ethan Frome (Mattie) and Iphigenia at Aulis (Chorus). Additionally, as Youth Services Director for the City of Newton, she has been honored to work collaboratively with Newton's students of color to create The Monologue Project: Voices of Color.

Jennifer Fraser (Marmee) is delighted to have a burgeoning relationship with NTC that began with Melissa in a coffee shop five years ago. Jennifer has a long history of theater, beginning at age 13 when she was in a semi-professional youth theater company that travelled around Massachusetts performing and singing. In adulthood, Jennifer has been involved with Boston Actor's Playhouse, Improv Theater, The Arlington Players, The Wellesley Players, and most recently NTC!

Matt Goldstein (Other Men) is a father of two teenage girls and is a math teacher in Brookline. He has been in lots of NTC shows, including The Song of Achilles Parts I and II, The Imaginary Invalid, The Importance of Being Earnest, The Would-Be Hipster, and four Junie B. Jones shows. He has played multiple characters in about half of these shows, but is excited to break his personal record by playing four different characters in Women.
